

C.O.S.H.H.

Course Number
SC0217

Validity
3 Years

Duration
1/2 Day

Assessment
Continuous

Substances that are hazardous to health are encountered surprisingly frequently in everyday life. In the workplace, such substances are often stored in larger volumes or greater strengths and so it is vitally important that staff are aware of the potential dangers of such materials. Delegates attending this course will gain a solid understanding of the principles of COSHH.

Suitable for:

Care, Education
and Commercial

Introduction

- Introduction and course overview

Course Contents

- Relevant legislation
- Hazardous substances defined
- Employers responsibilities
- Good control measures
- Employees responsibilities
- Systems of work
- Classification of substances
- Risk assessments
- Effects (chronic & acute)
- Health hazards
- Toxicity
- Routes of entry
- Potential illnesses
- Protective equipment
- COSHH sheets, assessments & records
- Course evaluation

The law requires employers to control exposure to substances that can be hazardous to prevent ill health